

Your calls, answered and booked.

In the cover you choose (after hours, overflow, or alongside your team), the receptionist answers, books into your calendar and texts the patient a confirmation. Your team gets an email for every booking.

Which calls should it answer?

Your numbers and your choice of cover. We fill these in together.

Calls a week you'd want it to take

Cover: after hours, overflow, or all calls alongside your team

Where your bookings live today

Online booking (HotDoc, HealthEngine) stays. This is for the people who pick up the phone.

What happens on every call

Live today: answer, disclose, message, 000. At go-live: book, text, email.

Anything urgent or life-threatening: the 000 line first, every time, then an urgent message to your team. It never assesses anyone and it is not an emergency service.

Straight answer: what's live and what switches on at go-live

Live on our demo line today

- Answers and says it's an automated assistant
- Says the call is recorded
- Takes a structured message and callback request
- 000 line first on urgent wording
- It does not book yet: it takes a message

At go-live (built, being tested)

- Books into your Google or Cal.com calendar
- Email alert for every booking or urgent message
- SMS confirmation with STOP opt-out
- Reminders and weekly report (Professional, Premium)

Not offered in any package: live transfer to a person; practice-software integration.

We don't promise a go-live date until booking has passed acceptance tests on our own line.

A booking call, start to finish

Fictional practice, synthetic caller. At go-live this is a live call.

RECEPTIONIST

Thanks for calling Bayview Dental. This call is recorded. You're speaking with an automated assistant. How can I help?

CALLER

I'd like a check-up. I haven't been before.

RECEPTIONIST

I can see Tuesday at 10:30 or Thursday at 2:15. Which suits?

CALLER

Thursday, please.

RECEPTIONIST

Shall I book that? ... You're booked for Thursday at 2:15. Your reference is BD-4821. Would you like a text confirming it?

Labelled simulated until booking goes live on our demo line. Reference and times are fictional.

Two honest booking modes

Booked (Google Calendar / Cal.com) or Booking request / lead capture (closed practice software).

1

Booked

Google Calendar or Cal.com, including a dedicated booking calendar. Books on the spot, reads back a reference.

2

Booking request / lead capture

Dentally, Core Practice, D4W and similar: no direct booking yet (Dentally has an API; possible future). Takes name, number, reason, preferred time. No reference number. Desk confirms next business morning.

3

Neither works for you

Then it isn't a fit yet, and we'll tell you so.

Direct booking depends on your system: we confirm compatibility during setup, or agree a booking-request / lead workflow. You choose which appointment types and times it may book (Booked mode). Everything else becomes a message or request.

Safety and privacy, said plainly

000 first

Urgent or life-threatening wording gets 'hang up and call 000' before anything else. Not an emergency service.

2

No advice

No clinical advice, no triage, no quoting fees you haven't published.

3

Disclosure

Every call starts: this call is recorded; you're speaking with an automated assistant.

4

Overseas processing

Call audio and transcripts are processed by providers in the United States. Your privacy policy names them (we give you wording).

5

Minimum data

Name, number, appointment type and time. No symptoms or clinical detail asked for.

6

Retention

Recordings and transcripts kept for an agreed period (30, 60 or 90 days), then deleted.

What you pay for, and how to judge it

Prices ex GST, + 10% GST. Value: an illustration with your numbers, not a forecast.

	Essential	Professional	Premium
Monthly, ex GST	A$699	A$1,099	A$1,999
Included minutes	400	1,000	1,800
≈ calls of 2.5 min	160	400	720
Extra minute	A$0.80	A$0.75	A$0.70

Invoice example: Professional, 1,200 billable minutes

- $A$1,099.00 + 200 \times A$0.75 = A$1,249.00$ ex GST
- GST A$124.90 · total A$1,373.90 incl. GST
- No setup line. Transfer minutes are not charged.
- Counted per second, summed over the month, rounded up once. Calls under 5 seconds and our test calls don't count. No rollover.

Your break-even, on your numbers

- Extra first visits a month = calls a week it takes in your chosen cover $\times 4.33 \times$ share wanting an appointment $\times$ share who'd book $\times$ share who'd otherwise not have booked
- $\times$ your gross profit per first course of care
- $-$ the monthly fee
- Always include the zero row: if nothing changes, you're down the monthly fee.

HOW YOU START

Each business's booking, routing and texts are set up and tested before they go live.

- Cover set for your practice: after hours, overflow, or all calls alongside your team (Professional and Premium).
- Direct booking depends on your system: we confirm compatibility during setup, or agree a booking-request / lead workflow.
- Five test calls with you, then Acceptance. Monthly billing and the minimum term start at Acceptance.
- Your number never changes. Switch call forwarding off any time and your phones work as they do today.

From yes to your first booking

About a week, once we have your calendar access and answers.

Kickoff starts once booking has passed acceptance tests on our own line. Monthly billing starts at Acceptance.
